9:15 am Session #1
How to Use Tools and Technology to Increase Accessibility

Bill Kilroy
Sr. Sales Director - Northeast VFO Group

From magnifiers to large print keyboards and Braille printers to Screen Reading software, Bill Kilroy from VFO Group will explain how these tools enable blind and visually impaired people to live independently and to expand their everyday possibilities.

Michelle Vicino
Customer Relations Manager
Sprint Accessibility, RELAY CT

Relay Connecticut is a free service that provides full telephone accessibility to people who are deaf, hard-of-hearing, deaf-blind, and speech-disabled. This service allows text-telephone (TTY) users to communicate with standard telephone users through specially trained relay operators. Michelle Vicino will explain how it works and how your municipality or organization can use this service to assist communications between people who use text telephones (TTY's) and people who use voice telephones.

10:30 am Break

10:45 am Session #2
Is That Dog (or Pig or Cat) Really a Service Animal?

Evan C. Bjorklund
General Counsel
Massachusetts Office on Disability
Untrained pets masquerading as service animals have become a growing problem in the last few years. In addition, confusion over service dogs and emotional support animals complicate the issue further. Evan Bjorklund helps sort it all out and explains what is protected by the ADA.

Laura DeMaio Roy
LEDR Dog Training
Certified Guide Dog Trainer/Instructor
Certified Trick Dog Trainer

Laura DeMaio Roy has trained countless guide dogs for service work throughout the US and Canada as well as Mobility, Psychiatric Service Dogs, Medical Alert, and dogs for children with Autism. She has also traveled all over the country to teach visually-impaired clients how to use their service dogs. She'll give insight into what goes into selecting and training a good service dog, what disqualifies a dog and what the service dog requirements are regarding public access, task-training and obedience.

William DeMaio, CPRP
Laura's father, William DeMaio, is visually impaired and relies on the assistance of Issac, his service dog. Hear personal experiences from Bill about working, traveling and living with a service animal.

1:00 pm Session #3
ADA Training: Effective Communications

Kathy Gips
Training Director
New England ADA Center
The ADA requires that Title II entities (State and local governments) and Title III entities (businesses and nonprofit organizations that serve the public) communicate effectively with people who have communication disabilities. The goal is to ensure that communication with people with these disabilities is equally effective as communication with people without disabilities.
